

HOLDS DR. RADOM WAS NOT A SUICIDE

Prosecutor Convinced Woman Physician Was Murdered, Despite Medical Examiner.

BRIDGEPORT, Dec. 7.—The police of Fairfield and of the State force called in to investigate the death of Dr. Elizabeth L. Radom of this city, whose body was found early Saturday on the Beach Road, Fairfield, remain unconvinced that the case is one of suicide, despite findings of Medical Examiner Donaldson of Fairfield. Prosecutor Bacon Wakeman of Fairfield, is confident officers on the case within the next few days will have progressed a long way toward solving the mystery of Dr. Radom's death. He scoffed to-day at the suicide theory, stating there are too many mysterious features about the young woman's death to warrant jumping at the conclusion that she ended her life by swallowing poison. Mr. Wakeman has believed from the first that the position in which Dr. Radom's body was lying, the fact that she was identified by several persons as a woman seen in the company of two men and another woman in an automobile sedan five hours prior to the time her body was found, and other circumstances, indicate murder rather than suicide.

ARRESTED AGAIN AS BURGLAR.
Morris Baum of No. 650 Fox Street, Bronx, who with four other men was out in $4,000 bail on a fur burglary charge, was arrested again to-day by Patrolman Huber of the West 26th Street Station on a charge of having robbed the shop of Jacob Rubow, a furrier, at No. 130 West 29th Street, this morning of $15,000 of mink coats.

TWO CHRISTMAS MAIL WARNINGS FOR PUBLIC

Decorated Cards Must Be Inclosed and Sent Put On Back of Package.
Postmaster Morgan, expecting the usual heavy rush of Christmas mail, issued two warnings to the public to-day.
The first is that postcards, the private mailing kind, decorated with mica, particles of glass, sand, tinseled and other similar substances, cannot be mailed except when inclosed in envelopes tightly sealed. Greetings on cards not inclosed will not reach the persons addressed.
The other has to do with Christmas seals. Red Cross stamps, &c. These must be placed on the back of the envelope or package and must not seal the package unless it is first class mail. Such packages will be returned to the sender.

WOUNDED AT MARNE. JUST LEARNED OF IT

Half a Bullet Extracted From Jaw of Corporal Who Had Been Gassed.

It was only to-day, when he came out of the effects of an anesthetic in the office of Dr. J. William Maller, surgeon dentist, of No. 3201 Park Avenue, the Bronx, that Joseph Oppenheim, twenty-nine, of Scranton, Pa., learned that he had been wounded in the Battle of the Marne.

Oppenheim, a corporal in the Keystone Division, was gassed at the Marne and not discharged from the hospital until the summer of 1920. There was no outward evidence of a wound. Neither doctors nor nurses discovered his injury and for more than three years he did not know he had been wounded.
While visiting a buddy, Walter Kennedy of No. 1185 Clay Avenue, Bronx, he was troubled by pains in his face and an uncontrollable twitching. Dr. Maller performed an operation to-day, and extracted half of a steel bullet from the jaw bone. "I must have had my mouth open when the bullet entered," said Oppenheim. "Probably I was telling the Germans what I thought of their gas and lost consciousness just when I was shot."

to succeed Edwin Carmen of Cleveland. According to those attending the annual convention the election of Dr. Kimball signifies the start of a movement to unite the engineers of the world and also to improve the so-called "deplorable conditions" in the United States Patent Office.
The engineers of the world, according to Past President Ambrose Swasey of Cleveland, are in favor of disarmament. The proposed world union is for the avowed purpose, he added, of devoting the energies of the engineers to maintain peace. They are said to be ready to cast all their influence into constructive plans for world peace.
Edward J. Prindle of New York criticized the "message compensation" of employees in the Patent Office and their subsequent resignations.
